INTEGRITY: GOOD PEOPLE, BAD CHOICES AND LIFE LESSONS FROM THE WHITE HOUSE

Presented by Egil "Bud" Krogh, Attorney and former White House deputy counsel

In 1971, Egil "Bud" Krogh, a 31-year old White House deputy counsel, was tasked with finding and stopping security leaks and became head of the Special Investigations Unit; Mr. Krogh and associates familiarly became known as the "White House Plumbers."

Of the various White House-based conspirators, Mr. Krogh alone pled guilty and refused to trade inside information for a reduced sentence. He was disbarred and went to prison. In 1980, Mr. Krogh successfully petitioned to be readmitted to the bar and has been in practice since. Mr. Krogh will tell his story – from rising young presidential counsel, to his indictment and prison sentence, to redemption and the power of choosing to do what is right.

3 ethics CLE credits will be applied for. This CLE is free and open to the public. We will provide additional details at a later date about how to preregister. *The location of this CLE is subject to change based on number of registrations received.
